

I would be dissappointed to see KLOVE radio lose their FM translators in the the willamette Valley or in any part of the country. As a truck driver I follow KLOVE radio wherever I can find them. I appreciate the music and ministry all day long. I appreciate clean conversation and commercial free radio and would be very dissappointed to lose the people I consider to be like family that I've listened to for more than 10 yrs. I think it serves as a vital and valued and valid resource for families who want a family friendly alternative to much of the vulgarity in public media and KLOVE provides that safe place. It would be a shame to eliminate that opportunity to the communities who have come to depend on the integrity and purity of KLOVE's broadcast capabilities. KLOVE is also a safe haven for people in times of anguish and distress. They meet people in their greatest need with prayer and comfort and encouragement in the dark moments and again it would be a shame to take them off the air by removing these translators. KLOVE listeners support this ministry out of their own pockets every year because they see a tremendous need being filled in ways and times and places nobody else can reach. Please...I entreat you to leave these translators in place. Someday you may be the one who so desperately needs that light in your dark place. Thank you for your consideration.
